THE MERCANTILE SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY SAID

TO HAVE MONEY TO WHICH CHARLES

H. SANFORD IS ENTITLED. Charles H. Sanford, of No. 54 Chestnut-ave., Jersey City, through his attorney, James J. Walsh, brought action yesterday morning, in the Supreme Court here, to have the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company permit an inspection of its books. This is pre-liminary to instituting a suit for the recovery of money, said to have been placed in one of its vaults. Mr. Sanford and his friends say that he has placed in the vaults between $15,000 and $20,000 which, through force of circumstances and adverse technicalifies, he cannot take out. He is seventy-two years old, and his memory is badly shattered; but, as ane treasurer of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Com-pany, at No. 122 Broadway, declined to say anything about Mr. Sanford.

Mr. Sanford was seen yesterday afternoon at No. 54 Chestnut-ave., Jersey City. He looks like one who has been infirm for many years. He is exceedingly thin and tall, and his speech is frequently interrupted by a cough, which might indicate weak lungs. He is evidently a man of some education, and his mind seems perfectly sound, except that his memory is de-fective. He merely corroborated what had already been learned.

SOROSIS DISCUSSES BUSINESS WOMEN.

The members of Sorosis and their friends met in Sherry's yesterday "ternoon at 1 o'clock. A luncheon was served, and afterward a programme of vocal and instrumental music and recitations was carried out Miss L. Florence Heine showed her skill on the violin, Miss Irene Jerome sang and Miss Romola Tynt recited. The feature of the afternoon was a discussion on "Does society properly recognize and protect business women?" Mrs. Helen Van Brunt, chairman of the meeting, presented the question. Papers were read by Mrs. Margaret W. Revenhill, Mrs. Georgia H. Murphy, Miss Nellie Kingman and Mrs. A. C. Johnson and the subject was more fully discussed by the son, and the subject was more fully discussed by the speakers of the afternoon—Dr. Harriette C. Keatinge, Mrs. Anna Randail Diehl, Mrs. Tennie C. Croly and Jennie de la M. Lozier, president of the club. No definite conclusion was arrived at.

Among the guests were Miss Burt, of the Chicago

Comen's Club; Miss Chapin, of the New-England Coman's Club; Miss Forrow, of the New Century Tub, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Grafton, of the Montreal Coman's Club; Miss Depew, of Flushing, and Mrs. V. Stone Whitten, of Boston.

flourishing condition and doing much good work. The kindergartens represented by their prin-cipals were the Bryson, the Alumnue, the Shaw orial, the McAlpine, the Woodstock, the Lowell, the Curtis, and Nos. 3, 4 and 7. No report was presented from the Francis Minturn rial Kindergarten, at No. 126 Forsyth-st., as the school has been established only a few weeks. It was the opinion of the speakers at the meeting vesterday that the parents of children attending the schools should be more interested in the kindergartens. The teachers are working hard to attain this end, but find much difficulty in accomplishing it, especially on the East Side and among the Italians, who regard efforts of the kindergarten workers with suspicion. Regular meetings, at which parents are re-quested to be present, are being held by each school once a month, and it is hoped that parents may be won over to a full appreciation of the benefits which their children will derive from a regular attendance

THE METHODIST ROOK COMMITTEE TO MEET.

Chicago, Feb. 6 (Special).-The annual meeting of the Methodist Book Concern Committee will be held in this city on Wednesday. It represents $4,000,000 of capital, and has publishing houses in New-York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, San Francisco, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and Detroit. Last year it appropriated $125,000 to the fund for disabled ministers. The committee consists of one member from each of the conferences and the six laymen who comprise the principal business of the session, which will continue for two days, will be the election of an editor for "The Methodist Review" of New-York, to succeed the late Dr. J. W. Mendenhall. The committee will also probably arrange for an exhibition of Methodist publications at the World's Fair. On Thursday even-ing the Methodist Social Union of this city will give a banquet to the committee at the Auditorium, at which 500 people will be present.

An amusing incident in connection with the loss of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Bokhara has lately come to light. At the door of Lloyds is stationed a porter, whose duty it is to prevent the entrance of unauthorized persons, and to shout out the contents of telegrams received. One day just before the news of the disaster reached London an underwriter at Lloyds took a risk on the vessel at 80 gaineas. Just as he was in the act of signing the slip the porter, in the jexercise of his duty, bawled out: "Hokhara—" pausing for a moment in order to make the announcement impressive. The underwriter, pen in hand, believing that the rest of the telegram would be "has arrived," snatched the slip from the broker, exclaiming, "I have it." In another instant the porter continued "—is totally lost." The remarks of the underwriter are not on record. From The Manchester Times.

he was a good shot). He repeated these movements until his bullets were expended (fifteen, I believe), then arose to his feet, went to the buck and found that he was sold. Ah, the pranks the old hunters will frequently play off on the young hunter, yes, and on an occasion on an old one.

A number of years ago one of my old companions—I will call him Bill—would occasionally hunt in the night with o headlight, having one route he travelled. The boys procured for the occasion an old nail keg, bored a couple of holes in it for eyes, put a lighted candle in it, covering the top of the keg so as to hide all the light except the eyes, and placed it in a suitable place on the route a short distance from the camp.

Such a dummy will deceive an unsuspecting old hunter when it is set up in a suitable place. In hunting on such occasions Bill used a No. 9 gauge shotgun heavily charged. After dark he started out on his beat. The night was dark and still, all heavy, timber dense.

Soon the boom of his run was heard, quickly fol-on his beat. The night was dark and still, air heavy, timber dense.

Soon the boom of his gun was heard, quickly followed by another shot, the shots sounding under these conditions like the firing of artillery. Bill returned with a broad grin on his face, saying, "Boys, you got me this time."
